The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1 and 4-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Reggitts.

Reggitts shows a plier tool having a first elongated member 1, a second elongated member 2, a piercing pin 15, and a retention hook 10. Statements of intended use have not been accorded any patentable weight. In any case, the Reggitts tool is capable of piercing a cylindrical drip system.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 2 and 3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Reggitts in view of Spriggs.

Spriggs teaches embossing a gripping surface on the handle members.

To emboss a gripping surface on the handle members of Reggitts would have been obvious for one skilled in the art at the time the invention was made in view of the disclosure of Spriggs. One of ordinary skill in the art would have been motivated to do this in order to enable the handle members to be more positively gripped by the user and to prevent slippage in the user's hand during use of the tool.

Claims 11-12 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claims 13-10 are allowed.
